

☀ Latte Leader at a Glance

Thinking about leading a local Ladies Who Latte group? Here's the whole role on one page, so you can see what you'd be taking on – and what you'd get in return. ☕

💖 The role

- ☕ A volunteer role bringing local women in business together, face to face
- 📍 Hosting a regular monthly meeting in your area
- 💬 Looking after your group's online community channel between meetings
- 🛡 Keeping the space kind, welcoming and supportive

📅 What you'd do

- 📍 Choose a venue, set your dates and share any changes
- 🔔 Send reminders two to three days before each gathering
- 🙌 Welcome new members by name and keep conversation flowing in your channel
- 🎉 Celebrate wins and ask open questions, such as "Who needs an accountability partner?"
- 💛 Moderate with kindness and clarity – remove spam, take heated chats to private messages, and ask for help whenever you're unsure

🚫 The golden rule

Local meetings are always free and sales-free. No hard selling and no fees – just a supportive space where nobody gets pitched at but your ladies can practise their introduction if they want to.

📁 What you get

- 🏠 Your own private local group channel inside The Latte Collective
- 💎 Complimentary Tier Two and Tier Three access while you're an active Leader
- ⭐ A seat at the table, helping shape the community
- 📖 Leader-only guides, templates and support materials
- 🔗 Affiliate links to share The Latte Collective
- 🤝 Support from Billie and the core team, plus the Latte Leaders channel

🪜 How to apply

- ① Step 1 – join Tier One of The Latte Collective (already a member? You've done this one – yay!)
- ② Step 2 – read the guides: ☕ Is Hosting a Group for You?, 📍 Choosing Your Venue, 📅 Running Your Meetings and 🚫 Keeping It Free and Sales-Free
- ③ Step 3 – complete the application, whether you're starting a new group, taking over an existing one or joining as an assistant (see ✅ Ready to Apply?)

Every application is reviewed personally, and everyone goes through the same process. Got questions before you apply? Just ask – I'd love to hear from you. Love & Laugh, Billie 💛
